

LEVIATHAN

From the former winemaker for Screaming Eagle

2016

LEVIATHAN

“It leaps from the glass with exuberant black cherries, black raspberries and blackcurrants ... Approachable now yet structured to cellar, this seriously affordable, serious California blend should age 15-20 years or more.”

- Robert Parker's Wine Advocate, December 2018

ANDY ERICKSON: A winemaking legend, committed to one red blend.

Leviathan is a red blend from legendary winemaker Andy Erickson, the former winemaker for Screaming Eagle. With two 100pt wines and numerous additional accolades under his belt, Andy is recognized as one of Napa's premier winemakers. Leviathan began in 2004 as a passion project. Andy wanted to take all of his winemaking experience and vineyard knowledge from around California and create a single red blend that was free from the restraints of appellations and varietals. This is winemaking without restriction.
